

THE INSTITUTION OF FIRE ENGINEERS

FOUNDED 1918 • INCORPORATED 1924

Affiliate Membership

The Benefits

- Provision of the IFE's affiliate organisation logo which can be used on stationery, signage etc
- Affiliate Membership Certificate for display
- A monthly copy of the Fire Risk Management Journal
- Opportunity to get involved at local level via an excellent network of UK and international branches
- Receipt of regular e-newsletters and information on IFE events to one central email address
- Partnership with the international organisation and awarding body for Fire Professionals

Who is it for?

The title of Affiliate is available for individual fire engineers or organisations with an interest in fire engineering, who wish to take part in the IFE's activities but have not, at this stage, met the requirements of a membership grade. Affiliate members are entitled to such rights and privileges as non-corporate members. Affiliate members may make reference to their affiliation to the IFE.

What does it cost?

There are 2 types of application – Affiliate (individual) and Affiliate (organisation) and an annual subscription is payable as follows:

Affiliate Organisation	£384
Affiliate Individual	£68 – note individual affiliate members do not receive the logo

The subscription runs from January to December and the above 2010 fees have been frozen at the 2009 rate in the light of the current economic climate.
