Annual Conference: Fire Related Research and Developments (Re15) Thursday 12th November 2015

INFORMATION FOR DELEGATES

Bookings are now being taken for the twentieth annual conference on fire-related research and developments to be held at the Fire Service College (Re15). This annual event brings together delegates from a range of backgrounds including brigades, senior policy-makers, universities, consultancies and international organisations interested in fire-related research and best practice. We warmly invite you to join us and spread news of this event to others who may be interested in attending.

Benefits of attending these events include the opportunity to:-

- be informed about the latest developments in research and best practice and learn from a range of approaches and perspectives on key topical issues
- meet and network with a range of professionals from across international fire-related communities
- receive a certificate of attendance and award of CPD hours by the IFE (we offer a special discounted rate for IFE student members)
- discuss opportunities for further professional development with representatives from the IFE, City and Guilds and IPDS

Conference themes this year will include:

- Creating public value and improving services
- Improving technical fire safety literature
- Introducing a stove guard safety system to reduce cooking fires
- Fire protection and guidance for recreational piers
- Shiftwork sleep and the fire service
- Hazard perception and decision-making
- Fire service organisation, leadership & management
- Firefighter health, rehabilitation and wellbeing
- Operational preparedness, communication and emergency response
- Fire investigation
- Understanding fire-related behaviour and its implications for fire service interventions
